Data Transfer Solution has Enhanced SharePoint Capabilities for Optimized Corporate Records Management with Migration Expertise to and from EMC Documentum

WELLESLEY HILLS, Massachusetts – October 16, 2009 – (BUSINESS WIRE) Trinity Technologies Corporation, a leading records management services provider, today announced the release of its data transfer and migration solution, TrinityBRIDGE, with enhanced capabilities for the import and export of SharePoint content and metadata. The announcement was made during the ARMA International Exposition in Orlando, Florida.

TrinityBRIDGE is a scalable data transfer system which migrates data between different systems, using a simple drag-and-drop methodology to build, or “map,” a migration process. Able to handle large corporate data transfers, TrinityBRIDGE specializes in data transfer to and from EMC Corporation's Documentum enterprise content management system, among others. Since it is configurable, data migration can be done from any third-party or custom application. This process can be driven from a desktop or automated from a server or workstation.

Joseph Morray, Jr., CEO of Trinity Technologies, said: “Corporations have a pressing need to effectively organize their growing SharePoint content. The flexible deployment of TrinityBRIDGE lets SharePoint users and corporate records managers archive SharePoint content to enterprise-level records management systems. This consolidation will deliver benefits such as greater organizational productivity, complimented by SharePoint’s scalable unified infrastructure.”

Moving or archiving the proliferation of SharePoint document libraries, picture libraries, discussions, contacts, tasks and custom data lists to and from any system with TrinityBRIDGE leverages the use of web services. In large corporate environments, it facilitates sound and consistent corporate IT practices.
