Recall to Host First Annual "Think Outside the Carton" User Conference in Riverside, California

ATLANTA--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Recall North America, a global leader in information management, announced today it is hosting a two-day User Conference 22-23 February 2010 at the Mission Inn Hotel in Riverside, California.

During this free event, attendees can network with peers across all industries and Recall Executives. On day one, attendees can obtain certified records manager continuing education credits by attending award-winning courses designed by ARMA International. On day two, Recall is hosting the Grand Opening of its newest, state-of-the-art information management facility, with live demonstrations of its service offerings including Radio Frequency Identification and other innovative technologies. Keynote speaker, Jim Gemmell, co-author of "Total Recall: How the E-Memory Revolution Will Change Everything," will discuss how his cutting edge project is revolutionizing the way storing critical data is viewed today.

Course topics include: Successfully Implementing Enterprise-Wide Electronic Records Management Programs; From Records Management to Information Risk Management; Enterprise Information Mapping: Protect Your High Risk Information; The Revised Federal Rules and the RIM Professionals' Role at Counsel's Table.

"Our User Conference is a phenomenal opportunity for industry professionals to educate themselves on the latest trends, maintain their Certified Records Management status and witness Recall's cutting-edge technologies first-hand," said Mark Wesley, President, Recall North America.

According to ARMA International's Executive Director Marilyn Bier, "Since 1955, ARMA International has been the premier provider of education and training for information management professionals. We're pleased to bring our expertise to the Recall User Conference as we help information management professionals prepare for tomorrow's challenges and today's opportunities."
